It is going to be an awesome night where my past and present students continue to look beyond the classroom and focus on needs in the Jacksonville community. Like last year, we have partnered with Hunger Fight to provide meals to children and families in need in northeast Florida. We are also working on partnering with other nonprofits in the area. There will be packing tables at the back of the cafeteria if you are interested in packing meals and seeing the process. It is going to be an amazing night filled with live music, kids being able to sing with a band, food trucks, a silent auction, picture stations and lots of smiles and laughs. Trust me, you do not want to miss it! Please come out and support this event and show, once again, that the Axson community is second to none! If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask! Have a great day and enjoy your weekend!

Ms. Sarah Axson's Art Teacher

You should receive a flyer from your child with the Square One Art access code and a sample of some of the items available to order with your child's gorgeous artwork on them!

The order deadline is November 20th, and all orders are online this year 😊

All orders are shipped right to your house, or whatever address you have them shipped to. They are not shipped to the school anymore. School tiles are the only item shipped to Axson. All other items ship to the address you enter. If you have any questions, please email me at
